

Riskonnect for Public-Sector Organizations

Riskonnect software integrates risk data, analytics, and insights to help you deliver on expectations.

Public-sector organizations around the world are tasked with advancing society, maintaining essential services, and protecting the public. At the same time, regulations are increasing, budgets are shrinking, and every move is subject to public scrutiny.

Do you have the means to deliver on the public's expectations – while protecting your reputation, timeline, or budget?

We began looking at how we could communicate risk that makes sense to senior decision-makers.

Spreadsheets with over 800 risks no longer matched this way of working.

Active Risk Manager was intuitive and matched the new way we were talking about risk.

It allows us to visualize risks differently – which in turn helps us to have different conversations about the actions and controls that we have in place.
