

Riskconnect for the AEROSPACE & DEFENSE INDUSTRY

Riskconnect software helps you manage the risks that delay programs, trigger fines, compromise quality, and jeopardize contract awards, so work stays on track for mission success.

Keep programs on schedule. Spot threats early, escalate them fast, and cut delays, scope creep, and cost overruns before they affect delivery.

Protect contract eligibility. Manage complex regulatory requirements like CMMC, NIST, AS9100, and DoD frameworks with built-in controls, automated reporting, and full audit trails.

Catch supplier and quality risk early. Act before a hidden weak point turns into a production hold-up, a costly rework cycle, or public failure.

Elbit is a little unique in that we're very program focused on our risks, but leadership can roll things up and see everything in a single picture. They can understand how this one program is affecting their portfolio, and they can drill down and get into the individual actions that people are doing.

Prevent Disasters and Delays

Unmanaged failures – from quality issues, schedule delays, cost overruns, and safety incidents – can be catastrophic for an industry bound by strict performance standards.

Riskconnect helps you identify and understand the risks threatening the performance of your projects and organization to reduce preventable incidents, production hold-ups, scope creep, and cost overruns.

See Around Every Corner

Risks hiding in multiple spreadsheets and scattered systems can result in huge fines, lost contracts, supply-chain surprises, and security lapses.

Riskconnect can help you manage interconnected risks of all types with end-to-end visibility at project, program, and enterprise levels to help you make confident decisions, strengthen operational agility, and prove reliability.

Avoid Costly Compliance Missteps

With regulatory scrutiny surging in this high-stakes industry, a single oversight can trigger huge fines – or even threaten your eligibility for contract awards.

Riskconnect has deep best-practice knowledge and out-of-the-box functionality to help you instantly comply with important industry standards and practices, including:
